A nomadic people; hunters & reindeer herdsman.
1893-1911: Explorers Jackson, Borchgrevink and Shackleton all used Samoyeds successfully in Polar Expeditions.
Antarctic Buck, lead dog on the Borchgrevink expedition in 1898, was donated to the Sydney Zoo in 1900. In 1904, Buck was purchased by the Kilburn Scotts & returned to England. Buck & his offspring became an important influence in Samoyed pedigrees.
1911: Etah, lead dog for Amundsen South Pole expedition.

Dogs from the Jackson Expedition were acquired by various interests & returned to England.
England

1889: First introduced into England by Mr. Kilbourn Scott, a member of the Royal Zoological Society.
